What is a Coronavirus?

According to Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), coronaviruses are a group of common viruses. It can affect animals and human beings, and it usually causes mild to moderate upper-respiratory infections, like a common cold.

How can it spread?

Coronaviruses are known to spread through air by coughing and sneezing, close personal contact such as touching or shaking hands, touching an object or surface with the virus on it, then touching your mouth, nose, or eyes before washing your hands.

What can we do to prevent infection?

- Avoid touching your face, nose, or mouth with unwashed hands.

- Avoid sharing food or items.
- Stay home if you are sick.

What are the symptoms?

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of Breath
